Writing

1 WEEK

Task 2 essays and Task 1 reports — structure, language and examiner mindset.

TASK 2 · ESSAYS

- Types of IELTS essays
- Marking criteria (what examiners actually score)
- How to write a high-scoring introduction
- Idea generation — SEE THE GQ technique
- Body paragraphs — REEREE method (Reason–Effect–Example)
- Writing a tight, relevant conclusion
- Grammar structures and collocations for Band 8+
- Essay correction and personalised feedback
- Ready outline for every essay type
- Mistakes to avoid + final essay checklist

TASK 1 · REPORTS

- All Task 1 types (graphs, charts, tables, maps, process, mixed)
- Clear outline for every question type
- Writing the introduction in 2 sentences
- Writing a sharp overview (the Band 7+ differentiator)
- Developing accurate body paragraphs
- Trend, comparison and process vocabulary
- Grammar structures examiners expect
- Mistakes that silently drop the band
- Final Task 1 checklist before you submit

SIGNATURE TECHNIQUES

SEE THE GQ

A repeatable idea-generation frame so you never freeze in the exam hall.

REEREE

Reason · Effect · Example — the body-paragraph engine for Task 2.

WHAT FEEDBACK COVERS

- Task response and overview quality
- Coherence, paragraphing and linking
- Lexical resource and collocations
- Grammar range and error patterns
- A rewrite path for the next essay
- Checklist before you submit on test day

Reading & Listening

Speed, strategy and accuracy — so you stop running out of time.

READING

1 WEEK

- Time management that actually fits 60 minutes
- All IELTS Reading question types mapped
- Question types where answers run in sequence
- True / False / Not Given — decision rules + practice
- Matching headings — skimming system + practice
- Multiple choice — stem analysis + trap spotting
- Fill in the blanks with grammar control
- Match the column — strategies and variations
- Which paragraph contains the information
- Short answers and remaining question types

LISTENING

3 SESSIONS

- Strategies for pen-and-paper AND computer-delivered tests
- Section 1 and Section 2 — form completion, maps, everyday context
- Section 3 and Section 4 — academic discussion and lecture skills
- Prediction from questions before the audio starts
- MCQs and all common variations
- Tackling maps and labelling tasks with confidence
- Difficulty solving — what to do when you miss an answer
- Spelling, word-limit and transfer-time discipline

Listening is short by design: three focused sessions lock the method, then you practise with real recordings between classes.

Speaking

2 WEEKS

Real-time practice that sounds like a confident candidate — not a memorised script.

PART 1Interview

Warm-up questions on home, work, study and daily life. Learn how to extend answers naturally without over-talking.

PART 2Cue card

A 2-minute talk with 1 minute to prepare. Structure, timing, and how to recover if you go blank.

PART 3Discussion

Abstract follow-ups. Opinion, comparison, cause-effect and speculation — the language of Band 8.

What the two weeks include

- Introduction to the IELTS Speaking test and band descriptors
- Real-time practice of Parts 1, 2 and 3 with trainer feedback
- Fluency, coherence, lexical resource and pronunciation coaching
- Indian-context examples you can actually use on test day

Fully customisable

This schedule is indicative. Sessions are reshaped around your current band, test date and weakest module.
